WELCOME TO SOAR

Academic Support and Resources for Students

Welcome on behalf of the members of the faculty at the University of New Haven.

Our goal is to prepare students to be life-long learners and as a university we are dedicated to the future success of our students.

That dedication is reflected in the quality of teaching, thoughtful advising, and academic support from our faculty and staff.

College is not a path students take alone.

The University provides students with many levels of academic support outside of the classroom and we encourage students to be proactive in communicating their academic needs.

We want to share with you today our campus resources for academic success.

Academic Support and Resources for Students

Academic Affairs

- Faculty and Staff

Center for Student Success

- Success Advising for All Students

Center for Learning Resources

- Tutoring and Workshops

Student Affairs

- Holistic Student Support

Accessibility Resource Center

- Additional Student Needs

Student communication with professors is very important part of academic success.

Every course has a syllabus provided in Canvas, our learning management platform

- Course expectation
- Class schedule
- Contact information for faculty member

Students can contact professors by email but we encourage students to visit their faculty member during office hours, specific time periods for student to visit.

Faculty feedback is provided to students throughout the semester.

Students are encouraged to check their progress within the appropriate platforms and communicate regularly with faculty about progress.

Academic Structure

Department of your faculty member is identified by the first four letters of the course number!

Faculty Advisors are assigned based on major.. Advisors are here to help you in a variety of ways, including helping plan courses.

WELCOME FROM THE CENTER FOR LEARNING RESOURCE (CLR)

Complimentary academic content support

Center for Learning Resources -- Overview

The Center for Learning Resources (CLR) provides academic content support to University of New Haven students by employing metacognitive strategies, helping students to gain awareness of and apply optimal learning processes in the creative pursuit of becoming independent learners.

CLR tutors focus sessions on discussions and demonstrations of key concepts and processes, using external examples to assist students in grasping and applying material.

The center provides a supportive environment where tutors listen to students' needs and work to provide lessons geared toward individual learning styles.
